Grand Haven Enters Winter Resort Field

GRAND HAVEN—This city, a summer "watering place" of national repute for the past 130 years, broke into the limelight last week as a winter resort.

Grand Haven's Snow Bowl ski area is included in the latest tourist booklet, "Winter Sports in West Michigan," published by the West Michigan Tourist Association.

Five Mile Hill recreation area, located off Harbor Avenue, only a stone's throw from downtown Grand Haven, is called "One of the state's newest winter sports areas."

It is one of the 52 ski areas now located in the Lower Peninsula. Of these 33 are located on the west side of the state.

Slopes for all skiing skills are available at the Snow Bowl, including several ski trails. The ski runs are to be served by electric rope tows.

Other facilities in the ski area are a warming shelter, a large parking area and a snack bar. A municipal skating rink is again planned at nearby Green Hill athletic park.

It is planned to keep the "Bowl" open daily and on two nights weekly.
