

Ski Train Will Run On Sunday

Large Crowd Expected
For Exciting Trip to King's Gateway Resort

Ski train tickets still are available for the excursion to King's Gateway Sunday. The round trip fare is $3.70. Bertrand Sporting Goods store is sponsoring the journey. Other places where tickets are available are Prange's Department store, Baum's Department store, Hotel Northland, Beaumont hotel, Carrigan hotel, and Duchateau tavern.

The train will leave Green Bay at 7:45 Sunday morning, and is scheduled to arrive at Land o' Lakes at noon. The return trip to Green Bay will start at 8 p. m., bringing the sports followers home at 12:15.

Championship events of the Central United States Ski association are on the program. Fans may ski, bowl, skate or engage in trap shooting. Accommodations for sport equipment will be provided on the train.

Following the success of the Iron Mountain ski train, a large crowd is expected to be on hand when the train leaves from the North Western railroad depot Sunday morning. Spectators as well as participants have found the trips enjoyable. Dining and refreshment cars are on the train.
