

—Even collegians are making their own winter sports areas these days with Calvin College in Grand Rapids and Grand Valley State College at Allendale both being fortunate enough to have ski-sized slopes within their new campuses. Both should be in operation this winter.