

Ski Tow Soon Ready For Use

The ski tow in Central Park is ready for operation except for the electrical hookup, Thor Reque, City recreation director reports, and by Wednesday the tow will be in operation. The hill is reported excellent for skiing. Barriers at the base of the hill have been rebuilt. Other work done on the winter sports area include re-finishing of ski tow pulleys to prevent wear on ropes.

Rauli Aho has been appointed to superintend activities at the hill.