Where to Ski

About the Tables:

LIFTS: "Poma" and "Slitz" are straddle-lifts which skiers ride singly with both skis on the ground. "T-bars" may be ridden singly or two abreast, also with skis on the ground. "Ropes" are grasped and clung to as they move uphill. "Chairs" lift the skiers off the ground.

WHEN OPEN: Key — "AW" all week, "H-E" weekends, "H" holidays and school vacations, "N" night, "m" Monday, "t" Tuesday, "w" Wednesday, "th" Thursday, "f" Friday, "sa" Saturday, "su" Sunday. Footnotes will cover exceptions.

TOP RATE: This is the top adult rate. The areas feature a variety of lesser fees for minors, certain days, night skiing and in some cases discounts for tickets covering several days or longer.

VERTICAL RISE: All figures supplied by area operators.

Can you afford to ski anywhere but the Alps?

Figure it out. What does a weekend—two days—cost you at your favorite local slope? Now multiply that by 7.

The difference between your answer and $400 is what it will cost (or maybe even save you!) to take a Lufthansa Alpine Ski Vacation. It lasts two weeks, in two different resorts—the time-equivalent of seven weekends. But, compared to your usual ski weekend, you get much more than that!

Look at what you get! Round trip air transportation to Europe's great ski resorts from New York on Lufthansa German Airlines. You go when you want to go. That $400* includes skiing in most popular resorts, on the most famous runs. It includes all ground transportation. Breakfasts. Accommodations at fine lodges.

Lifts and skiing lessons are inexpensive, especially early in the season. And Lufthansa will give you stopover privileges in 20 extra cities—for no extra fare. (For $60 more we'll throw in Catania, Palermo, Naples, Rome, Florence, Venice, Nice and Dubrovnik.)

Now, put all that into your computer, and you'll see that you're way ahead with this Lufthansa Ski Vacation. Or have your Travel Agent add it all up for you.

*Tour price start at $400, based on 14-21 day ITX Economy Class Excursion fare from New York.
