

Sports-minded Turn Thoughts to Skiing

With summer more than half over, ski-minded Minnesotans are already turning their thoughts toward winter sports.

The Minnesota tourist bureau has just completed preparation of a 14-page winter sports manual which sets forth various winter sports facilities of the state, lists eight annual ski tournaments, 15 ski clubs and two ski tows in the state, and gives weather and snow-fall statistics.

The remainder of the manual describes winter sports and skiing facilities of various cities throughout the state, listing their outstanding points of interest, hotel accommodations and transportation facilities.
