

--FEELINGS DIFFER--

★ Continued From Page 1

by Rainbow Lake and another bus was dispatched to transport his passengers to school. One Claymont district bus had battery difficulties on Waterworks Hill.

With 2 minor exceptions, there was no service disruption to either Ohio Power Co. or General Telephone Co. of Ohio subscribers.

Service to 8 or 9 Ohio Power customers in Newcomerstown was disrupted briefly Saturday night when a transformer on E. Canal st. had a malfunction. Several rural Shanesville customers were affected when a power line went down.

Although the snow added up to a lot of hard work and grief for some, there were many more taking advantage of its belated arrival to make the most of it as a winter playground.

Attendance at Hidden Ridge Ski Slope, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Newland at Hidden Valley Golf Club, hit 300 Sunday and there was a large group of ice skaters taking advantage of the club pond, which was cleared of snow.

With attentions centered on removing snow from city streets, both Dover and New Philadelphia officials reported that ice skating facilities in their respective cities would be cleared as soon as possible.